

The image shows a handwriting practice sheet with 20 rows. Each row is defined by two horizontal lines. The space between these lines is divided into three equal parts by a central horizontal line. The top and bottom parts of each row are shaded gray, while the middle part is white. This pattern of shaded and unshaded bands repeats for all 20 rows. The left and right edges of the sheet are decorated with a vertical checkerboard pattern.